Corporate parenting promise 2024

Health and wellbeing

We will make sure you and the people who care for you have easy access to and know how to access services to keep you physically and emotionally healthy.

Where you live

We will strive to ensure people you live with are well-trained and supported to care for you. We will strive to ensure that you live in the best home to suit you individually.

Ready for the future

We will help you build the skills you need as an adult. We will help you to know how to access practical, emotional and financial support from an early age.

Relationships

We will strive to ensure you have caring, consistent people you trust throughout your childhood and into adulthood.

Support for you (how we develop our services)

We will understand your needs and use this to help develop our services. We will involve you in decisions that we make like your plan and employing staff.

Participation in society

We will provide a range of options for you to be heard and involved in decisions about you. We will support you to understand your past and decisions made.

Education training and employment

We will understand your needs and find the best options for your education. We will connect you to people and opportunities to help you build skills and get the job you want. We will encourage and support care leavers to work in our organisations.
