Not in Education, Employment or Training (NEET)

- STATUTORY ROLE OF THE LOCAL AUTHORITY

- Local authorities retain their duty under Section 68 of the Education and Skills Act (2008) to encourage, enable and assist young people's participation in education or training. They are required to assist the most vulnerable young people, those at risk of disengaging with education or work and are required to have arrangements in place to ensure that 16 and 17 year olds have received an offer of a suitable place in post-16 education or training by the end of September annually.
- To enable local authorities to fulfil these duties, they continue to track all young people's participation in order to identify those who are at risk of not participating post-16. Schools are required to work with local authorities, to support them in recording young people's post-16 plans and the offers they receive, along with their current circumstances and activities.

Post-16 Journey

For a young person to progress from Level 2 (GCSE level) to Level 3 (A-levels) they need to have passed GCSE English Language and Maths with a grade 4 (formerly grade C). Many options require higher than this.

Challenges

- Less young people get 'good' GCSE grades in comparison to other areas. (Grade 5s or above - 32.9% compared to 46.2% nationally)
- Adults (parents) qualification levels are lower than national averages. 9.8% have no qualifications (6.4% nationally) and 24.8% have level 4 or above compared to 47.1% nationally.
- Apprenticeships are encouraged for technical roles but there are barriers:
 - Lack of awareness
 - Complex application process
 - Loss of benefits (UC and Child Benefit) for the family
 - Lack of a range of choices of subjects / industries
 - Competitive for sought after vacancies in Engineering
